ADAM EIGENRAUCH Executive Director – The Emily K Center

Adam Eigenrauch, the Executive Director of The Emily K Center, asked for a show of hands of those that had been to their facility on Chapel Hill Road. A lot of hands went up but it probably didn’t surprise him because we have had at least one meeting there and we do award The Brown Family Scholarship to one of the graduates of their Program every year. At least once, several Rotarians have participated in a career night at the Center.

Adam was introduced by Rotarian Gerry Musante, who joined the Board in 1999 when planning for the Center began – and remained on the Board until last year when he was honored with Emeritus status. Adam has been Executive Director since November of 2010 and came to the Center in 2006 as Director of Education after 10 years as an educator and administrator in the Chapel Hill-Carrboro City Schools. The Center’s mission revolves around identifying promising students in Durham County from disadvantaged backgrounds and providing intense tutoring and support to lay a future foundation for getting into college and being successful there. We have met several of these students when the scholarships have been awarded. Pioneer Scholars is for first through eighth graders, Scholars to College is for them as high school students, and Scholars on Campus supports them during their first two years of college.

While this intense focus on a few students has been very successful, what Adam came to talk about was an expansion of their support for potential college students to all Durham High School students. Students participate in interactive college access focused workshops and individualized one-on-one advising services. Workshops are offered both at the Center and in the community. Advising sessions are personalized and flexible, with office hours established based on student availability. Students may participate in as many or as few Game Plan: College services as they wish.

Since there was a little confusion caused by me about who was going to do this write-up, I had to go to The Emily K Center Website to make sure I had some of the details right. Like often happens when I do this, confused or not, I get engrossed in whatever site I find. One of the interesting features was the embedded video below which introduces Game Plan: College. If you are reading this in the printed Bulletin, you can find the video on the Center’s Website, at: www.emilyk.org under the Programs tab – or go to this write-up on our Club’s Website, at: www.DurhamRotaryClub.org.

For those of you who might be reading this is India or Argentina on our Website and wondering who Emily K was, she was the inspiration for Hall of Fame Duke Basketball Coach, Mike Krzyzewski. Coach K is the Founder of The Emily K Center and it is dedicated to his mom.

The Alzheimer's Caregivers Luncheon
February 19, 2017 – The Levin Jewish Community Center

On February 19th, 75 guests gathered at The Levin Jewish Community Center, in Durham, for the 3rd Annual Rotary Alzheimer's Caregivers' Appreciation Luncheon. The Event is jointly sponsored by The Rotary Clubs of Durham. Attendees were treated to lunch, an A Cappella serenade by The Pitchforks of Duke University, at take-a-way gift box of truffles, and a great raffle of 20 prizes! Raffle prizes were generously donated by local merchants and included gift certificates from local restaurants, bottles of wine, massage and pedicure treatments, and movie night packages – among many others. The Event was great fun and guests were very appreciative of the opportunity to attend.
