NCCU HEAD FOOTBALL COACH KICKS OFF FIRST SPRING MEETING

Fresh off his second season as head football coach at NCCU, a record-setting 15 wins already in hand, Jerry Mack kicked off our Club's first meeting of Spring by highlighting how the right mix of vision, sacrifice and passion can drive success on the field and later life.

These virtues represent Mack's 3-play roadmap to get there.

“Anybody who touches North Carolina Central ... I want them to come out being better,” Mack said at Monday lunch. He told a full house that he works to teach players to find a vision for success in their own lives, be willing to sacrifice and do what it takes to gain the skills and move ahead with passion for something they care about.

Mack took the helm in late 2013. His appointment followed a series of assistant coaching positions at other schools, including University of South Alabama, University of Memphis, Jackson State, and University of Arkansas at Pine Bluff.

At each of these programs, Mack served in deputy coaching positions and helped develop champion wide receivers, tight ends, quarterbacks, and champion teams.

“I learned a lot,” Mack recalled. “I grew a lot.”

Judging by the numbers alone, the Eagles are quickly adapting to Mack's own passion for the game, its ups, downs, and broader life lessons.

In his first season as head coach, Mack led the 2014 Eagles to the most victories in the program's Division I Football Championship Subdivision tenure with a 7-5 record and a share of the Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference Championship. The team also earned a win highly coveted by many --- victory of the arch-rival Aggies of North Carolina AT&T in late 2014. Mack guided the Eagles in 2015 to an 8-3 overall record and a 7-1 conference mark to repeat as MEAC co-champions. This included another win against the Aggies.

Mack puts in long hours in the job. He said he is helping young men to build personal success stories that will serve them through life. “I tell all these guys that life is long if you make bad decisions.”

Each individual success, Mack said, keeps him hard at coaching. “Those are the things that touch my heart. Those long nights when it gets touch and tiresome, those are the things that keep me going.”

Mack played football at Jackson State and Arkansas State University where he lettered three years before earning a bachelor's degree in management information systems in 2003. He completed his master's degree in PE at Delta State in 2006.

Mack and his wife, Starlett, have two sons, Jaden and Jaxon, and one daughter, Skyler.

Durham Rotary will be cheering hard next season and extends thanks to Mack for taking time to attend lunch and open his personal version of the life playbook for success and fulfillment.
